JACKSON COUNTY BRICK INDUSTRY

Business Result of Report Made by State Geologist W. S. Blatchley in 1903.

SHALE HILLS ARE VALUABLE

Rapid Growth in Business Since it was Established Several Years Ago.

The shale brick industry in Jackson county is one which will become of more importance than most people are prone to believe. Only a few years ago the shale hills west of this city were considered practically worthless so far as the brick industry was concerned, but it is now recognized that one of the best industries in southern Indiana may be the outcome of this business.

The attention of the public was first called to the value of the shale deposits in this county by State Geologist W. S. Blatchley, in 1903 in his annual report. He made a careful analysis of this material, and reported that there was no doubt that it could be made into paving brick of excellent quality. He stated that it could also be made into roofing tile and sewer pipe.

Later the Medora Shale Brick Company was organized with N. V. Trautman as president. This company has done a successful business and is making paving bricks in large quantities. They now have several large contracts in view and the quality of the brick is becoming more widely known.

Recently Mr. Trautman wrote to Mr. Blatchley stating the rapid growth of the brick industry in this country, especially about Medora.

Concerning the letter, Mr. Blatchley, who was pleased to learn that the industry is being developed, said:

Knobstone shale is the most abundant brick-making material in Indiana. In 1897 I had, in my annual report, a chapter on this shale, in which I pointed out its value for that purpose and told of the extensive deposits in this state. About that time the city of Seymour used a million Ohio paving brick in constructing paved streets, paying a high price for them, when, at the same time there existed, within a few miles of Seymour, rich deposits of knobstone shale from which the same kind of brick could have been made and the money kept at home. But since the value of the shale has been pointed out brick and sewer pipe factories have been established at numerous places in the shale territory and that industry in Indiana has grown to enormous proportions. Knobstone shale is found in a broad strip of Indiana extending from Benton county in a southeasterly direction to Floyd county, on the Ohio river. Included in the shale belt are the counties of Jasper, Benton, Tippecanoe, Warren, Boone, Montgomery, Hendricks, Putnam, Morgan, Johnson, Brown, Monroe, Bartholomew, Jackson, Scott, Washington, Lawrence, and Floyd. The possibilities for the development of the shale industry in Indiana are great."

OFFERED PRESIDENCY.

Trustees of Franklin College Tenders Position to Dr. E. A. Hanly.

Dr. E. A. Hanly, pastor of the Baptist church, of Providence, R. I., has been offered the presidency of Franklin College by the board of trustees of that institution. Dr. Hanly is prominent in the Baptist church and is well known throughout the United States. He was graduated from Franklin College.

A campaign to increase the endowment fund $500,000 is to be inaugurated. To start the work the members of the board as a starter pledged $65,000. One member, Grafton Johnson, the Greenwood capitalist, gave $20,000. One of the incidents of commencement week which is of interest to Franklin College friends generally, was the resignation of Prof. Rebecca Thompson from the chair of mathematics. She has been a teacher in the college many years and has made a splendid record. She will become a beneficiary of the Carnegie retirement fund.

Prof. Goheen of the physical culture department, Mrs. Bertha Smith, dean of women and Mrs. Viola Bergan, matron of the dormitory also resigned. F. M. Griffith of Vera and Dr. H. P. Klyver, of Peru, were elected to fill vacancies on the board.

District Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Epworth League of the Methodist church of the Seymour district will be held at Brownstown June 21, 22 and 23. A strong program has been arranged and a number of prominent members of the League and church will make addresses. On Tuesday evening an address will be given by Dr. J. W. Turner, of Rushville, who has a large number of acquaintances in this city. Arrangements are being made to have the automobile make an extra trip that evening in order that persons from this city wishing to hear the address may be given an opportunity to attend.

BALLOON ASCENSION FOR FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION

Jubilee Committee Makes Contract For Another Popular Attraction.

A balloon ascension of unusual merit has been booked as one of the strong attractions here at the Military Jubilee. The act will be put on by Homer Hazzard, an aeronaut of considerable merit who is at Waverly Park at Lansing, Mich., this week. He is featuring this season with the great "human bomb" ascension in which a man and a parachute are apparently blown to atoms and later the man emerges from the smoke and drops gracefully to the earth in a parachute.

Another high class attraction that has just been booked is the Manola family of fine well-known aerobats, who are filling an engagement at the Columbia Theatre at Chicago this week.

GETS INTO SUPREME COURT.

Test Case in Brewery Ouster Proceedings Handled With Speed.

The case of Attorney General Bingham against the Home Brewing Company, the test case in the brewery ouster proceedings, reached the Supreme Court yesterday. Although a ruling of Judge Bartholomew of the Marion Superior Court, Room 5, was handed down June 7, the record and assignment of errors was filed yesterday, establishing a new record for promptness in getting a case into a higher court. By an agreement between brewers' attorneys and the attorney general only one case affecting an Indiana brewery is appealed, the decision of the higher court to be entered in all the courts as a decision in each of the cases.

Double Header Potatoes.

John Maschino, of Route 8, has an interesting freak in what he calls a "double header" hill of potatoes. He says that there are the usual number of potatoes below the top of the ground, and in addition there are about three dozen potatoes from the size of a guinea egg to the size of a marble growing on the top of the potato plant. Those growing nearer the ground are larger and they gradually diminish in size as they approach the top of the stalk. Mr. Maschino lives on Mutton Creek, a few miles east of this city.

New Books.

The following new books have been added to the Seymour Public Library: Spanish Life in Town and Country—L. Higgin. Impressions of Spain—James Russell Lowell. The Man Outside—W. Martyn. The Arch Satirist—F. Fenwick. Going Some—Rex Beach. The Voice in the Rice—Gouverneur Morris. Miss Minerva and Wm. Green Hill—F. B. Calhoun. A Splendid Hazard—Harold McGrath.

Working Hours Reduced.

An order reducing the working hours in the boiler shops at the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern shops at Washington has been posted. In the neighborhood of 150 boiler makers and helpers are affected by the order. It provides that the employees shall work three days of each week, one-half of the men to work the first three days and the rest of the workmen the remaining three days. The order is the result of the strike of the machinists, helpers and apprentices.

MANY STREETS IN CITY IMPROVED

Council Giving Especial Attention to Repair of the Public Highways.

BROADWAY TO BE GRADED

Concrete Gutter and Curbing Will Be Constructed on Vine, Between High and Laurel Streets

Although much attention has been given to the improvement of the streets in the city during the past few weeks, there is still a large amount of work to be done by the street department before all the thoroughfares are in good condition. It is recognized that the repair of the streets is one of the important duties of the council, and it is for this reason that especial attention has been given to the improvement.

Recently the square on Third street, between Bill and Blish streets, has been graded and graveled, an improvement which has been needed for several years. There was formerly a hill on this block which had never been graded, and which made the street very heavy, especially for hauling. The council ordered this work done last fall, but for some reason the grade for the street was never given until early this spring.

Another improvement which is to be made this summer is on Vine street, between High and Laurel streets. This street is to be regraded and graveled with concrete curbing and guttering on both sides of the street. There are now several miles of concrete curb and guttering in the city and it is the intention of the council to have all future improvements made in this manner, so that there will be a uniformity in all streets, which adds much to the appearance of the city. The work on Vine street will probably be completed within the next few months.

There have also been some negotiations with the Pennsylvania railroad company regarding the improvement of Jeffersonville avenue, south of Tipton street. The company stated some time ago that they were willing to make any improvement designated by the council, as it realized the necessity of repairing the highway. It was suggested that the street be paved with brick on account of the large amount of heavy hauling from the freight house, but it seemed to be the general opinion that a paved street would not be necessary if the street was well graveled. The company stated that they would be willing to haul away, free of charge, the dirt from the improvement. When this street is repaired, concrete guttering and curbing will probably be constructed.

Several of the streets in the north part of the city are to be improved this summer. A new grade is to be given for Broadway, north of the Southern Indiana railroad, and the street will be improved with gravel. Several squares on North Blish street is also to be repaired.

The street department has done considerable work with the grader the past two weeks, which has greatly improved several of the streets. Many of them which were graded, however, should be given a new surface, and it is said that a thousand yards of gravel could be used in repairing the highways in the city.

PURDUE SHORT COURSE.

Farmers of Jackson County Interest-ed in Work to be Given.

The farmers of Jackson county are much interested in the announcement by Prof. George I. Christie, superintendent of the agricultural extension department of the Purdue University experiment station, that arrangements have just been completed for six farmers' large short course schools, to be conducted the coming winter in the large cities of Indiana. All the short courses will be of one week's duration, and will be practically identical in scope with the corn school held each January at Purdue University.

An experiment was tried last season and a short course like the one at Purdue was conducted at Evansville. The result was a great success of unexpected proportions for the project, and as a result six others were arranged for next season, in addition to the big course at Purdue.

The cities selected for these short courses are Terre Haute, South Bend, Muncie, Huntington, Richmond and Evansville. Each one is expected to cover the area of the congressional district in which each of the cities is located. It is expected that nearly three thousand people will be enrolled at each of the schools.

A number of the farmers of this county are making arrangements to attend the session of the short course which has been arranged.

Slumber Party.

Miss Julia Kerkhoff gave a slumber party for Miss Doris Geile Wednesday evening, at her rooms on West Second street, and a number of her girl friends were invited. Those present were: Rebecca Dixon, Marie Corde, Elsie Massman, Mabel Heuser and Doris Geile. The amusements were something entirely new and novel, and the party was a great treat to the girls. A lunch was served at midnight.

Two Miles of Mains.

The Seymour Gas & Electric Light Company has just completed laying about two miles of additional gas mains, and as much more will be laid as soon as the material arrives. About three more carloads are expected here within the next few days. Altogether there are about six carloads of the mains which are being put down.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank our friends and especially the neighbors for their kind assistance and comforting words during the illness and death of our beloved son and brother, Leonard E. Wolter. We shall ever hold them in grateful remembrance.

MR. & MRS. CHAS. WOLTER.

Miss Sadie Frey and Miss Catharine Short, teachers of the city schools, left this morning for a two weeks' outing at Atlantic City, N. J. They will also make a few side trips to Washington and other points of interest in that locality.

WORK ON PENNSYLVANIA TRACK IS COMPLETED

Roadbed Raised from Fifth Street to Curve Near Riverview Cemetery.

The Pennsylvania Railway Company has about completed the work of raising its track from Fifth street north to the curve near Riverview cemetery. The distance is about nine-tenths of a mile and at the highest point, a short distance above the Seymour chair factory, the track has been raised about five feet. Already the engine crews say they can notice a great difference in pulling their trains over this section of the road, and several minutes of time is being gained by the heavy trains that have to make the stop at the Southern Indiana crossing and then start on an up-grade. The track has also been straightened and part of the way has been pushed west about seven feet. A large force of men has been employed on the improvement for some time.

Some new derrails are being put in, one at the end of the switch near the north corporation line of the city and the other near the block station at Brown street. More of the old steel has also been taken up in the north part of the city and new 85-pound steel substituted.

The track was raised about two feet at the Southern Indiana crossing and the S. I. has been brought up a like distance. The S. I., however, has made its raise very abrupt and it only extends back for a distance of about 200 feet each way. This temporary arrangement has been made by the Southern Indiana until after the sale of the road, which is supposed will be in the near future.

MARRIED.

WILKINS—BUTLER.

The marriage of Miss Florence Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butler, of Scipio, and John Wilkins, of Chicago, will be solemnized this evening at the home of the bride. The young couple will leave immediately for Salt Lake City, Utah, where they will spend the summer, and will return to Chicago next fall to make their home.

The bride is the niece of Mrs. A. A. Davison, of this city, and has a number of acquaintances here, having visited in Seymour several times.

We will do better than that on large orders, save you the considerable item on freight. Bring in your bills showing the amount of goods and the quality you desire and get our prices.

After we have given you figures and you do not find them satisfactory we will not ask you to buy from us. All we ask and all that you can ask—a square deal all around. We make this offer in a spirit of fairness and with a view of getting your trade on legitimate lines.

We are a part of the common household that constitutes this great country. We are mutually dependent upon each other for prosperity and we cannot exist as a prosperous, progressive community without the harmonious relations that should exist in one large family. We have our capital invested here. It is a part of the common wealth of the community, contributing its share toward the payment of taxes, toward the support of schools and churches, toward the creation of substantial values for farm property and toward the highest welfare of all our people.

It is a matter of common knowledge that a large sum of money is being diverted from the local channels of trade annually and being sent to the mail order concerns of the large cities by many of our citizens. This money is forever lost to the county and represents a drain that can never be filled. The goods that are purchased of such houses can be as cheaply purchased here and all that we ask is an opportunity to convince you of the truth of this. Try us on your next order.

All who have the welfare of the city and country at heart are respectfully urged to assist us in defending the common welfare of our town and country against the encroachment of this evil by doing their trading at home, by supporting all our local business and industrial institutions, all things being equal. It will help every one of us. No person in the county, however obscure his station, will fail to enjoy the benefits that are sure to accrue. It is a fight against one of the most insidious systems of modern business graft.

CRUSH THE EVIL

Stop Patronizing Mail Order Houses and Trade with the Legiti-mate Merchants.

The Mail Order House is a Scheme Whereby Capital Makes the Greatest Profit Out of the Greatest Number.

To the Husbands, Wives, Daughters, Brothers and Sisters of This State.

In the past two decades many questions have arisen which are taxing the ingenuity of the best intellectuals among the political and industrial economists of the day to solve.
Evils that are gigantic in their scope which are far reaching in their effect, and which are subtle in the injury to the public and private weal that they do, have grown up to torment the people.

Among these evils is one that is paramount, for the reason that it is so insidious in its workings that its true iniquity is concealed from the eyes of all except the most thoughtful. This is the Mail Order House evil. It is like the consumption, a veritable white plague in the business world as an exposition of its detractional methods, policies and effects will show.

Do you wish to sustain the legiti-mate dealers and enable them to remain in business? If so, do you not know that it is imperatively necessary to trade with them?

Do you know that if your father, husband, brother or friend is in the shoe business and you buy groceries or furniture of a Mail Order House, the wives and families of the grocery and furniture stores are equally justified in buying shoes of a Mail Order House?

If your husband or other relative or friend is a doctor or a lawyer, and the shoe dealer and other dealers are forced to assign or retire because you patronize Mail Order Houses, do not these professional men lose patients and clients?

Is the reliable dealer being properly patronized and thus encouraged to continue in business? If not, are not the members of the household, or your friend's household, likely to lose their positions? Think of this and buy your goods exclusively at home and not of a Mail Order House.

Patronize the legitimate dealers.
They constitute the backbone of the business interests. Break it and you destroy the bulwark of your town's prosperity. The home merchants constitute the tenantry of our business blocks, but they are rapidly diminishing because our people send thousands of dollars weekly to the Mail Order Houses.

Remember this: Mail Order Houses do not sell goods any cheaper than your legitimate dealers, but they do sell a line of goods manufactured especially to swindle the people, and by carefully reading our argument we will prove to you that the line of goods they sell are dear at any price.

To The Thoughtful

That article on Mail Order Houses is devoted to a full and fair discussion of a subject which we believe is of vital importance to every one.

Right here, let us state that we do not dispute the right that belongs to every citizen that he or she has the privilege of spending their earnings in whatever manner and where they wish, as long as they keep within the law. No one will dispute the farmer's claim that he can send his money to any place that he wishes, and buy goods he needs wherever he wants to.

But there is an economic side of the question that should not be overlooked. The resident of a community should be active in furthering the interests of the place he calls home.
He is working contrarily to his own good when he sends his money to the distant city for supplies he knows can be secured in his own home town. The dollar sent away goes out of circulation and ceases to be a factor in the building up of the community from which it is sent.

But do these mail order houses promote the prosperity of your town, or are they injurious to its best interests? Let us examine the facts: That these institutions destroy real estate values; bankrupt the merchant of small capital; employ help at a pittance that will not suffice to keep body and soul together and thus pave the way for the ruin of many who, wearied and discouraged by the hopeless outlook for advancement, fall by the way; humbug and "sell" the people the way they do business, there is no shadow of a doubt. Test the truth of our statements. Question any or every one with whom you come in contact and you will be surprised at the unanimity of thought upon the subject—all of those to whose attention the question has been brought—from the humblest artisan or laborer for a mere pittance to the small capitalist with his empty store and residence property unite in a testimony, which crystallized into one sentence would in effect be a curse upon these establishments.

Many have as yet given little thought to this subject. We would urge upon each reader their personal responsibility in this matter and incite them to investigate for themselves and weigh carefully the evidence on all sides of this subject, and having come to a decision to act consciously according thereto. If, as we claim, they are monstrous frauds, humbugging the public and octopus-like, destroying whatever they can reach, then surely it becomes the duty of every humanitarian to aid the public to get rid of this "Old Man of the Sea," who is riding upon its back.
We therefore, make this earnest appeal: Read every line written upon this subject, and act according to your convictions. If you admit the justice of our claims, don't say "Oh, well! we cannot help it; nothing can come of this movement." Rather, let each reader whose soul is not "fit for treason, strategem, and spoils," be a committee of one and say, "I will not spend another dollar with a Mail Order House." Take this stand and soon the monsters, like the Arabs, will silently fold their tents and steal away from your locality.

WHO PAYS TAXES? The Women Must Help.

Do the Mail Order Houses Help Pay Your Taxes?

What Do They Do to Lessen the Burden of Taxation on the Farmers of This County?

A Business Statement to the Thinking Farmers of This Locality.

There is one sure and certain thing in this world and that is taxes. The good business man figures in his taxes every year as one of the running expenses of his business and he is right in doing it because the taxes must be paid, if they are not paid the government has nothing to supply the money for expenses and will have to stop.

The tax question is of no small importance to the farmer and one that there is no way of avoiding.
There is always a great deal of discussion as to whether the taxes are not too high and whether they should not be cut down and these discussions are always of interest to every person who owns property. Admitting that they should be cut down by the state government, that they are too high, and that they are more than the farmer can properly pay and that they are an injustice to him, admitting all these things why should the state government cut down the rate of taxation now in effect, to aid the farmer who claims that he is overburdened with taxes when that farmer is deliberately going ahead and doing that which will increase his taxes 100 per cent if he persists in doing that which he is doing now. You will stop and say that a man who says that you are doing anything as foolish as that is insane and that you have never done anything of the kind and never will but if you are buying the merchandise that you and your family use and that is necessary around a farm from Mail Order Houses you ARE DOING THAT VERY THING AND YOU WILL REAP THE HARVEST FROM IT AS SEAS.

The first thing that comes to your mind is how am I doing that? and we will endeavor to show you in as few words as possible how and in what way you are working to increase your taxes 100 per cent.

In the first place it is a well known fact that every merchant in the county has a great deal of money invested in his stock of merchandise probably a great deal more than any farmer with a 160 acre farm, you know that both the merchant and yourself are assessed on the value of the property you own and what you have accumulated from that property. As long as the merchant has a good business and can sell his goods at a fair margin of profit so long will he increase his stock of goods and pay his share of the taxes, but supposing that yourself and every other man living in the county sends to the Chicago mail order houses for all the merchandise he uses how long will the merchants of the county stay in business? To answer that all you have to do is to ask yourself how long you would stay on a farm if the country merchants would not buy the products of that farm from you. The answer is very evident is it not?

Each county in the state averages 200 country merchants and each stock of goods will average $10,000 and that makes an assessable property of $2,- 000,000 in merchandise in this county.
You remove $2,000,000 assessable property from your county and see the amount of additional taxes each farmer will have to pay. You may say well we buy our merchandise from the mail order houses because they save us money, but there is no greater fallacy nor more foolish idea ever invaded the minds of the American farmer. There is no retail merchant in your home town that has his ad in this paper who will not meet any price made by any mail order house in the country and when he does that he saves you money.

When you have deserted your home merchant and are buying all of your merchandise of the mail order houses then you are helping to put the country merchant out of business and when that is done there is no body left to pay the taxes but the farmer.

It is one certain thing that not one of the mail order houses will come forward and pay any part of your taxes and if you continue to patronize them there will be nobody left but them and yourself. DO YOU WANT THAT TO HAPPEN?

If a successful crusade is to be inaugurated against these evils, the aid of the women must be secured. With out their co-operation nothing can be done. Men may storm as much as they like where "my money" shall be spent, once the money is turned over to the wife the chances are she will spend it where she pleases. And why should she not? Is she not a partner in the firm? Why should she be called upon to give an account of her every act to him who is styled "lord of creation" any more than he to her? Too many men regard the money they pay to their wives as so much donated.
The only legitimate expenses in their estimation outside of their business and the bare necessities for their families is what they spend for their own personal comfort. They seem to forget that matrimony means equal partnership. One-half of what a man earns belongs to his wife. When she receives this she is under no compulsion to give him an accounting beyond what one equal partner would give to another. We do not say that she shall not spend her part of the firm's earnings with a Mail Order House, but it is our mission to show her that it is not for the interest of the firm of which she is a member to do so.
Then, if she is a good business woman the Mail Order House will lose a customer. If she will read carefully, she will at least find out not only what our opinions are, but very many actual facts bearing upon this subject as they occur. No hypothetical cases will be palmed off for facts.
Every statement made can be relied upon.

We appeal to the women of this community to come to the rescue of their home town, to the rescue of their husbands, fathers, brothers, yes, to the rescue of their own homes. A danger menaces, more deadly than war, pestilence or famine. Your home town is today struggling in the toils of a commercial anaconda, and its very life is being squeezed out, its vitality absorbed and its future blighted. Compare your home town of today with your home town before concerns that have absorbed already one-third of your home stores. One by one, like the falling of autumn leaves they went down before the encroachments of the hydra-headed commercial monstrosity known as the Mail Order House, leaving in their wake a mountain of debt, ruin and blighted hopes. Is there one member of the community that has not suffered because of this pernicious system? Not one.

And where is the end of all this to be found if these thistles in the commercial gardens are not checked off.
In the complete extinguishment of all business outside of a few firms. The city will be depopulated, for the people, deprived of a means of subsistence, must seek new homes.

Is it not easy to see the end, and is not the outlook a gloomy one? Then let a half be called and the evil averted ere it is too late.

The Farmer and the Laborer are as Much Dependent on the Business Man as he is Upon Them, if One Suffers, They all Suffer.

RETURNS HOME.

Miss Halley Smith Accompanied Her Parents to Ogilville.

Miss Halley Smith, the young lady who tried to commit suicide Monday evening by drowning herself in White river near Pleasant Grove, returned to her home in Ogilville with her parents, who were called here Tuesday morning. The young lady recovered her strength rapidly and was at the home of her friend in Freetown before going to Ogilville.

The Smith family formerly lived at Freetown, where the Rev. Mr. Smith was pastor on a circuit of the Methodist church. Miss Smith has many friends in this county, where she lived with her parents for several years. Later the Rev. Mr. Smith was transferred to Elizabethtown, where he was pastor of the Methodist church.

Miss Smith became acquainted with young Trent while the family lived at Freetown and the acquaintance continued during the two years' residence of the Smiths in Elizabethtown. The Rev. Mr. Smith was transferred to the Ogilville circuit at the last meeting of the Indiana M. E. Conference.

Give Exhibition Drill.

The Hartman Zouave company, known as the Hoosier Zouaves, who will appear in this city on July Fourth, gave an exhibition drill in front of the grand stand at the aviation meet at Indianapolis Wednesday, and the applause which they received is an evidence of the worth of their performance as an attraction. Their work, which seemed here to have been almost perfect last year, is said to be much better than before. Fred Hartman is still captain of the company and is well pleased with what he has been able to accomplish with his men. The work of this company will be worth going a long way to see and they will be one of our strong attractions.

Undergoes Operation.

William Rodenberg, telegraph operator for the Pennsylvania line at Crothersville and son of Harry Rodenburg, of this city, underwent a surgical operation at the city hospital here this morning. He stood the operation very nicely and it is hoped he will be out in a very short time.

NEW YORKERS ARE ALL AGOGBig Doings Planned for The Colonel's Homecoming.

AN OUTLINE OF THE PROGRAM

From the Time the Returning Hunter Is Taken Off the Steamer at Quarantine Saturday Morning at 6 O'Clock Until Late in the Afternoon It Will Be One Continual Round of Marching and Countermarching.

New York, June 16.—One got a notion of how distinguished a private citizen Colonel Roosevelt is when visiting his publicity headquarters here. Twenty-five men and women, headed by the secretary of the committee, Captain Cosby, and Assistant Secretary Harwood, are busy day and night shooting out mimeograph copies of all the wonders that are to happen when the hunter arrives here Saturday. Already the Lehigh Valley, the Pennsylvania, the New York Central and other lines with trunk line connections have sent word forward that beginning today they will start in to send their fastest trains into New York in sections to accommodate the members of the Hamilton club of Chicago, the Rough Riders and other organizations who want to get here on time to greet the colonel.

The Hamburg-American liner Kaiserin Auguste Victoria is expected to cleave her way out of the muck of the Hook about 3 o'clock Saturday morning. This would bring her up to Quarantine about 6 a. m. Collector Loeb, the Roosevelt children now in this country, and a few intimate friends of the Roosevelt family will board the revenue cutter Manhattan at 7:45 a. m., and go down to Quarantine to take the colonel off the liner. There will be breakfast aboard the Manhattan.

At 8:50 the revenue cutter Androscooggan will chug out from the Battery loaded with the reception committee of 300 and guests that include Governor Watts of Connecticut, Governor Mills of New Mexico, Governor Fort of New Jersey, and Governor Quimby of New Hampshire. Aboard the Androscooggan also will be representatives of the governors of Montana, Washington, Minnesota, West Virginia and perhaps representatives of other states. Aboard the Dolphin will be Captain Butt, Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture, and Secretary Meyer of the navy. Captain Butt will carry in his coat pocket a letter from Mr. Taft to Mr. Roosevelt, the tenor of which is a welcome home.

Colonel Roosevelt will depart from the Manhattan at 9 o'clock down at Quarantine and go aboard the Androscooggan to be greeted by Mr. Vanderbilt and his reception committee. Then the battleship South Carolina will lead the way for the naval parade, and two abreast with Commodore Fred B. Dallzell in command, the water show will steam up the North river to a stakeboat off Fifty-ninth street. Here the water parade will turn and go back to the Battery. If all goes well, Colonel Roosevelt should step back on his own country between 10:30 and 11 o'clock at the Battery. About 2,500 invited guests will be grouped there to greet him when he walks ashore with his reception committee. A grandstand already has been built at the Battery with a platform from which Mayor Gaynor will make a speech of welcome to the returning colonel. Upon the completion of the mayor's address Colonel Roosevelt will speak.

Carriages for the reception committee, the governors, their aides and the representatives of state governors will be at their disposal as soon as Mr. Roosevelt stops talking.

The parade will not be so large as some folks would like to see it. Mr. Harwood says that twenty-four hours after the offices of the reception committee opened more than 30,000 marchers had asked for a place in line. Before three days had passed more than 50,000 were clamoring for positions in the parade. Whereupon the reception committee put its foot down in order to save Roosevelt from the fatigue of standing all day watching the thousands march past him.

The parade will march up Broadway to Fourth street, headed by the mounted police. The Seventh regiment band will follow and behind the band will clatter a band of the colonel's Rough Riders. The Rough Riders, with the Abernathy kids bringing up the rear, will escort Colonel Roosevelt, who will ride in a low-neck hack. After this comes the squadron, a band with the reception committee in carriages following. The rest of the parade will consist of about 2,000 members of the Spanish war veterans.

Not a Word For Print.

SS. Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, by wireless via Cape Race, June 16.—Mr. Roosevelt is receiving by wireless numerous invitations to speak when he reaches home, but he says it is impossible for him to accept. He is also getting greeting from many political and other bodies. He announces that he will give no interviews when he arrives.

Fully a hundred have been drowned in the Swiss floods. Vast areas have been deluged and the agricultural losses are immense.

WHITE'S TESTIMONY

Charges of a Plot Brought Forward in Lee O'Neill Browne's Hearing.

Chicago, June 16.—The names of three women were brought into the Lee O'Neill Browne case in connection with charges of a plot, in the cross-examination of Charles A. White at the end of a sensational day's session before Judge McSurely. Just before the close of the examination Attorney Forrest bombarded White with questions to show that he told Miss Wood of East St. Louis, who runs a cigar counter in a hotel there, of plotting to get money from Lorimer and his friends. The names of her sisters Edith and Agnes were also brought out.

Mr. Forrest, in rapid-fire questions, charged that White admitted to Katherine Wood that he was "going to get enough money out of the Lorimer bunch" to run himself the rest of his life and that "he had the Lorimer bunch cinched and would duck for Europe" as soon as he "started the trouble."

THE AEROPLANE DEFIES STORM

Sensational Flight at Indianapolis Aviation Meet.

BROOKINS OUTRIDES THE GALE

Apparently Devoid of Fear of the Unstable and Agitated Element Into Which He Was Venturing, Wright's Expert Gave the Fifteen Thousand Spectators a Thrill Which They Are Not Likely Soon to Forget.

Indianapolis, June 16.—Flying in the air 100 feet from the ground with the wind blowing in a gust, was the feat performed by Aviator Brookins at the Speedway. Every movement of the wind sent a thrill through the 15,000 people present and there was a cry of horror at one time when for a minute the aviator appeared to have lost control in the wind, but his machine was quickly righted and moved in the rapidly increasing gale with the ease of a bird.

The aviator's chief trouble was to keep his machine before the wind or with it, as he was obliged to move more or less in circles, and when the wind caught him on the side or he was forced to breast it squarely, he got into trouble.

Everyone seemed to know that the storm was coming and the Wright brothers themselves seemed to question the expediency if not the safety of a flight in the face of the storm. They went out into the field, looked up at the sky, shook their heads and conferred quietly together, taking care that no one should hear what they had to say. They did reach a conclusion, but it was reported through the crowd that they had concluded to leave it to their men whether or not the flight should be attempted.

Mrs. Zelma Leas has returned from Indianapolis, where she attended the aviation meet.

It is hoped that in time the same Democratic governor can be induced to show interest in the charges made by John Kern that eight legislators were "bought up" by the men who put Senator Shively in his present high place.

Mr. Kern has not retracted his accusations. Senator Shively has not answered them. The Democratic governor has ignored them. The Democratic prosecutor of Marion county continues to pass them by. While the governor is working on the legal phases of primary election fraud, however, it is reasonable to hope he will go further and take up the more important caucus corruption described by Kern.

What a Summer Cold May Do.

Indianapolis, June 16.—At the time of the Democratic state convention, when Crawford Fairbanks, called by John E. Lamb the "multi-millionaire brewer," was mingling with the delegates and quietly telling the boys about the liquor plank that Steve Fleming had ready for them to pass, he dropped into friendly conversation with a group of politicians, and talked of many things in a good-humored way. Incidentally he was asked why it was that Ben Shively was awarded the United States senatorship in 1909, when much trouble could have been prevented, and the 'ohn Kern wail could have been stilled by putting John W. Kern in the senatorship, as seemed to be demanded at the time.

Mr. Fairbanks, the brewer, chuckled as he replied that Shively "refused to let go of a sure thing and wait for such an uncertain thing as the issue of a fight against Beveridge."

"In 1909 Shively had a bird in the hand," said Crawford Fairbanks, "and he could not be coaxed to let go of it. We all knew that the candidate this year has got a game of chance, and an uncertain game ahead of him.

"Shively preferred not to take chances. You can see where Shively is. He is all set. If things go Democratic this year, you can mark my word for it, it will be Shively and Taggart in the United States senate.

"Shively would have made a better candidate this year than Taggart or any man we've got. But you can put it down now that Taggart will be junior senator if the Democrats carry Indiana this year."

The convention went on and endorsed John W. Kern for United States senator. But that action has not altered the sage observation of Crawford Fairbanks. That prediction stands without revision. And so far as can be seen with the naked eye, there is no reason for Mr. Fairbanks, the brewer, to change his mind or to edit his prediction. Taggart can eliminate Kern any day he desires to do so.

GOVERNOR IS BUSY

PURSUING FRAUDS.

Concerned About Primary Vote Buying; Ignores Kern.

Indianapolis, June 16.—Is there a difference between bribery in a Democratic legislative caucus and buying votes at a primary election?

Governor Marshall has been called on to pass on a primary election contest in which it is charged that a candidate for prosecuting attorney went forth with money in his hand and purchased votes right and left, thus gaining the nomination. The governor holds that a writ of mandate and an injunction can be obtained to prevent the election officers from certifying the nomination of a man who buys votes at a primary.

He holds that such a man can be enjoined from taking office, if he is elected. In view of the interest being taken by the Democratic governor in a remote contest where a candidate for a county office is charged with fraud.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is sold on a guarantee that if you are not satisfied after using two-thirds of a bottle according to directions, your money will be refunded. It is up to you to try. Sold by all dealers.

REPUBLICAN PLEDGES BEING CARRIED OUT.

Party Leaders United to Push Roosevelt Measures.

Washington, June 16.—Republicans in the congress are more than ever hopeful and certain that Republican plodges for progressive legislation will be so well carried out at this session as to give the Republican party good standing before the voters of the country.

It has been recognized all along that the majority should try to accomplish something on the lines laid down by President Taft and former President Roosevelt. There is good reason to feel that the close of the session will see once more a demonstration that Republicans, working together in the name of the people and progress, can get results worth while and achieve legislation such as is needed to meet changing conditions.

The public long ago ceased to look to Democrats for help in advancing popular reform legislation. The Democrats do not "stand hitched" for real reform. They are prone to follow Joe Bailey of Texas and stray into the ways of selfish interests.

On the other hand, with the demands of the people made clear, and with the needs of the nation set forth fully, the Republican majority, recognizing the desire for action, is getting busy in good shape.

Not only has the postal savings bank bill advanced rapidly and well, but the railroad rate bill, with a physical valuation clause, is on the way to enactment, with assurance of complete Republican support. And the tariff commission idea is being advanced successfully, with a $250,000 appropriation to provide for a tariff investigation.

ECONOMY THE SLOGAN IN NATION'S CAPITAL.

Movement May Mean Death to Public Buildings Bill.

Washington, June 16.—Word has gone out that there will be no public building bill this year. While the revenues are growing, and the government is in good shape financially, at the same time the good counsel of economy has been heeded, and Republican leaders are urging that the public building requests of congressmen be postponed. By cutting out the public building bill it is expected to cut down the appropriations several millions of dollars.

Indiana cities as follows are interested in a proposed public buildings bill:

Portland, $60,000 for a site and building; Frankfort, $70,000 for a site and building; Gary, $100,000 for a site and building; Huntington, $20,000 for a site; Wabash, $15,000 additional for building; Mishawaka, $60,000 for site and building; Newcastle, $70,000 for a site and building; Brazil, $27,000 additional for building; Seymour, $60,000 for a site and building; New Albany, $35,000 for improvements to the present building; Bloomington, $20,000 additional for building; Mt. Vernon, $7,500 for a site.

BOTH FACTIONS WELL PLEASED

Railroad Bill Comes Out of Conference.

TO BE DISPOSED OF AT ONCE

While the Democrats, as a Party, Will Oppose It, They Will Do Nothing to Retard Its Passage, and Both Facets of the Republicans Express Satisfaction—May Get to President the Last of the Week.

Washington, June 15.—The conferees on the railroad bill have had an agreement and the measure, practically in the form that it will appear on the statute books, is now before the senate and the house. Both factions of the Republican party seem to be well satisfied with the conference report, and it is expected that the bill will be disposed of and sent to the White House for President Taft's signature by the end of the week. The bill emerges from the committee with many of the insurgent provisions still in it. In fact, about the only radical propositions dropped by the conferees was the house's physical valuation section and the provisions regulating the issuing of railroad stocks and bonds. The bill as it reappears contains a long and short haul amendment, a feature that all of the insurgents and a few regulars have been demanding for months; a provision authorizing the interstate commerce commission to suspend the operation of rate increases for ten months—pending an investigation into their seasonability; an amendment shifting the burden of proof in rate cases from the shipper to the railroad itself, and several other propositions that the western radicals forced into the bill.

The house conferees emerged from the conference room with considerably more to their credit than representatives of that body have usually been accustomed to get in dealing with the senate leaders. Chairman Mann of the house committee on interstate commerce believes the conference bill strongly entrenched. The house came within six votes of accepting the senate bill as a substitute for its own, and a realization on the part of the senate leaders that the house might take matters into its own hands and accept the bill as it passed the senate, probably made them more conciliatory than they otherwise might have been. The senate bill had provisions that the leaders had accepted merely for the purpose of shutting off the debate and with the intention of throwing them overboard in conference.

The agreement on the report brings practically to an end a fight that has been waged for almost four months, and there were signs of relief on both sides of the capitol by insurgents, regulars and Democrats when the report was received and seemed to be satisfactory to nearly all hands. The Democrats as a party will, of course, oppose it, but they probably will do nothing to delay its passage.

The president gets in the conference report the commission that he has insisted upon for the investigation of alleged stock watering by railroad corporations. The president is authorized to appoint a commission and to fix the pay of the men. The total appropriation, however, is only $25,000, and the commission will have no power to subpoena witnesses.

Chairman Mann of the house committee on interstate commerce believes the conference bill strongly entrenched. The house came within six votes of accepting the senate bill as a substitute for its own, and a realization on the part of the senate leaders that the house might take matters into its own hands and accept the bill as it passed the senate, probably made them more conciliatory than they otherwise might have been. The senate bill had provisions that the leaders had accepted merely for the purpose of shutting off the debate and with the intention of throwing them overboard in conference.

The agreement on the report brings practically to an end a fight that has been waged for almost four months, and there were signs of relief on both sides of the capitol by insurgents, regulars and Democrats when the report was received and seemed to be satisfactory to nearly all hands. The Democrats as a party will, of course, oppose it, but they probably will do nothing to delay its passage.

The house conferees emerged from the conference room with considerably more to their credit than representatives of that body have usually been accustomed to get in dealing with the senate leaders. #### GOV. GILLET intensified the gloom that hung over the Frisco fight promoters, as it was recognized as the death-knell of fighting in this state. No promoter can afford to antagonize the governor, as the attorney general's deputies could stop any boxing match as soon as blood was shed and the spectacle became brutal. All talk about taking legal measures against the governor's action is recognized here as absurd.

THE GOOD PREVAILS

Strong Forces at Work to Produce the Result Attained.

Washington, June 16.—When the California delegation in congress got a telegram quoting Governor Gillett as declaring that the big Jeffries-Johnson fight for the heavyweight championship of the world would never take place on California soil, members of the house opposed to prize fighting congratulated Mr. Bennett of New York. All the rest, and they seemed to be in a big majority—scowled at him from all over the chamber.

The story of Governor Gillett's attitude is all mixed up with the efforts of San Francisco to secure governmental sanction of the proposed Panama-Pacific exposition in that city in 1915, and the fact that Mr. Bennett is an influential member of the foreign affairs committee which today will decide between San Francisco and New Orleans. Mr. Bennett was a delegate to the Presbyterian general assembly at Atlantic City. While there the church interests appealed to him to use his influence against the fight. He thought things over and then telegraphed to W. R. Wheeler, president of the San Francisco board of trade, that the sentiment of the house was decidedly against the great exposition to a city that proposed to countenance what looked like the most brutal prize fight ever held.

"Please urge on your committee,"

Mr. Wheeler telegraphed back in reply, "that the public-spirited people promoting the San Francisco exposition and the people generally interested, are not favorable to the fight. The preponderating majority of the people are opposed to the fight. It would be unjust to consider the latter proposition in connection with the former. I thank you for your interest and solicit your influence in behalf of our city."

Mr. Bennett telegraphed Wheeler on May 28. Since that time he has had a good deal of correspondence with Mr. Wheeler and other citizens of San Francisco on the subject of the fight and the detriment of it on the city and her chance of obtaining governmental sanction for the exposition. Just the other day he forwarded to Representative Hayes of California, who has been most active in urging the claims of San Francisco for a favorable notice in connection with the exposition, a letter from prominent man of San Francisco denouncing the proposed fight. In an indorsement on the letter Mr. Bennett suggested that it gave excellent reasons why San Francisco should not be favored. It is the belief of members of the California delegation and of the house that Mr. Bennett's attitude was in some measure responsible for bringing so much pressure to bear on Governor Gillett as to bring about his declaration that the fight would never take place in that city.

In case the courts refuse to grant the injunction, the governor directs the attorney general to proceed against the promoters, fighters and other parties interested, under the penal law which makes prize fighting a felony.

In his letter Gillett says that the district attorney of San Francisco has told him he cannot take action, and Gillett has notified the attorney general to supersede the San Francisco attorney and take action for the prevention of the fight. The governor assures the attorney general of the co-operation of the governor's office.

The action of Gillett was a sad blow to the sports of Frisco, but what they don't know is that the governor's hand was forced from Washington. The governor says that he has become convinced that the fight will be a prize fight and not a boxing contest, and for that reason as prize fighting is declared by the law to be a felony, he feels it his duty to stop the contest. This is the governor's official position.

But the real reason that prompted him to take this action was a telegraphic warning he received from Congressman Bennett of the foreign affairs committee. Bennett said that unless the governor stopped the fight San Francisco need not hope to secure the Panama fair. The same dispatch from Bennett was received by W. R. Wheeler, president of the chamber of commerce. This ultimatum made the governor take quick action, especially as it was seconded by dispatches from the California congressmen and senators. On the other side the business and hotel men here are up in arms because of the action, as they don't appreciate the danger of the city losing the Panama fair.

Governor Gillett is evidently determined to put an end to prize fighting in this state, for later he sent a message to the attorney general authorizing him to stop the Langford-Kaufman fight next Saturday in Frisco. This
